

Andrew Atter – International Business Coach, Formerly, Managing Partner Marshal Goldsmith CEE, President of ICF Poland 2007.

Andrew has been an independent executive coach for the last ten years. He has worked with major companies such as Vodafone, Pepsi and Ernst & Young in 23 countries around the world. Formerly, Andrew was Managing Partner for Marshall Goldsmith Partners in Central and Eastern Europe; Regional Director for the Hay Group in Asia; and, Board Director for New World, a Hong Kong based conglomerate. Andrew has been trained by and worked with some of the world's leading coaches, such as Marshall Goldsmith. He is currently in a second year of an EMCC-certified Master's In Executive Coaching at Ashridge Business School in the UK. In addition, Andrew has completed coach training with CoachU International and Co-Active Training Institute. Andrew is in the process for applying for Master Certified Coach with the International Coach Federation.

As a coach Andrew is specialized in coaching business leaders and entrepreneurs in high growth, emerging markets of Central Europe and Asia. He developed his career as an international business coach by attaining professional qualifications via the internationally recognized CCUI, achieving accreditation in a number of specialized coaching tools, such as Myers Briggs Step II, and by delivering high value leadership coaching to major global companies.

Andrew coached at senior levels in a number of major organizations such as Vodafone, Philips, Hutchison Ports, Citigroup and AC Nielsen. Geographically, he coached clients in Europe (UK, Netherlands and Poland); Asia (China, Hong Kong and Thailand) and Africa (Tanzania). His coaching relationships include CEO's of listed companies, Regional Presidents and CEO's of international companies, Country Managing Directors; with regional functional roles, such as CFO, CTO, CIO, Sales Director, HR Director; and, General Managers of profit centers.

He coached across a range of industries, including high technology, advertising and media and investment banking.

Andrew has been a prominent speaker and have been interviewed by CNN and CNBC. He has presented papers to the National Foreign Trade Council in New York; to the Economist Conference in Shanghai; and University of Chicago Conference in Beijing, and the Institute of Directors in Singapore.

I hold a Master's Degree from the London School of Economics.

www.andrewatter.com